Excerpt: .the lips with paleness or lividness, or convulsive twitches, or with motion, as if the sick were tasting something. Internally, with aphthae, or with bitter taste; more or less dryness, causing incessant thirst; and with sordes, which also cover the teeth and lips. The tongue, as if macerated in water, or as if boiled, enlarged, stiff, shrivelled, covered with white mucus, gradually becoming becoming yellowish, or brown, or black, orchapt, or husky, or as if it were striped, or covered with blackish slime, especially in the middle, and near the root; or the tip and sides appear red and moist, while the middle is very much-diseased; or it is so tremulous that the patient can hardly shew it. The throat with less or more inflammation internally and externally, accompanied with an exudation of serum, or lymph, acquiring the appearance of pus; with enlargement of the...

Reviews

This book is definitely not easy to get going on reading through but extremely exciting to see. I am quite late in start reading this one, but better then never. I am pleased to explain how here is the finest book i actually have read inside my individual daily life and may be he best book for ever.
