Roeseller: Superintendent of Schools for Sauk County There was a time when all instruction at teachers institutes in the state of Wisconsin was of a purely academic nature. The time has now come when you can hardly find an institute which has not some exercise devoted to school management, pedagogy, or psychology. Principles and methods of teaching are fast gaining ground as subjects of study and are encroaching more and more on the academic field. Some well-meaning people are of the opinion that this movement toward professional instruction in our institutes is premature because the great majority of teachers in our rural schools have a too limited academic knowledge. They believe that the professional instruction is largely a waste of time, that only a few in the upper strata are benefited thereby because the subjects are too abstract for the comprehension of the great bulk of teachers in the lower strata. The institute will be a success only when its exercises yield the greatest good to the greatest number. Sauk County, I think, has in years past taken the lead in this movement toward professional work in institutes.
